MADE FOR MARLOWE.

"The Love Chase" Said to Be Particularly Suited

FOR JULIA MARLOWE'S CAPABILITIES.

A Big Sale of Seats—Other Theatrical Attractions.

Fifty-seven years ago, in London, a clever Irishman, named James Sheridan Knowles, who had made fame and a living by writing plays and acting in them, indulged in the curious fancy of composing a comedy for Julia Marlowe. No doubt Miss Marlowe's horoscope was cast, along with the others, at the beginning of the world, and packed neatly away, with a presumably pink ribbon around it, in its particular locker on the shelves of time. But access to the store-room of the future is denied to existing humanity, and it is therefore a marvelous mystery how on earth the clever Mr. Knowles knew the details and particulars which were bound up in that packet of destiny, and, in 1837, a full third of a century before life took it down from the shelf and issued clear-cut papers to Baby Marlowe, could write a play exactly fitted to the charming actress that Baby Marlowe was to become. Such a play is "The Love Chase," in which Miss Marlowe will appear as Constance at the Grand, Monday evening, February 26th. The sale of seats opened at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and is already very large. The audience will undoubtedly be a large and fashionable one.

"The Danger Signal."

"The Danger Signal," is giving a matinée at the Grand this afternoon, and will close the engagement with tonight's performance. Paul Dresser, the composer of the "Danger Signal" company, is a native of Brazil, Ind. In his younger days Dresser was intended for the priesthood, but he ran away with a traveling Indian medicine man, and took his first lessons in the show business. During a recent visit there the comedian looked up old acquaintances and a number of them attended the performance at the opera house in the evening.

Paul Dresser is the author of the songs "Mother Told Me So," "The Pardon Came Too Late," "The Convict and the Bird," "The Letter That Never Came," "When Mother First Taught Me to Pray," and "He Was a Soldier."

"None," Abbott & Tilton's legitimate and pleasing comedy, will be produced by a strong and capable cast at the Grand next Tuesday evening, Feb. 27th.

At the Crawford the Rattigan Dramatic company will open a week's engagement Monday night, Feb. 27th, in "Michael Strogoff."

"The White Squadron" will be here next Friday and Saturday nights.

BLANCHE COX EXPECTED.

A noted Salvation Army Leader on her Way to Topeka.

Extensive arrangements are being made by the Salvation Army people for the visit to this city of the celebrated Staff Captain Blanche Cox and her Lieutenant Miss Owens, on Sunday and Monday March 4 and 5.

Meetings will be held in the Army hall on Sunday and on Monday the meetings will be held at some of the churches.

Blanche Cox is one of the leaders of the Salvation Army movement in this country. Her home is in New York, but she makes a tour of the United States every year in the interest of the Salvation Army.

Her Lieutenant is said to be a very sweet singer.

College Press Association.

At the meeting of the State College Press association at the Copeland yesterday afternoon the following papers were read: "The Press Association in Field," by L. M. Markham of the Baker Beacon; "Editorial Management," by W. C. Fogle of the Student Journal, State University; "Subordinate Departments," J. F. Kalu of the Ottawa Campus; "Size of Staff, How Clever," by C. W. Boughton of the McLean Continent; "Advisability of Having a Member of the Faculty on the Staff," by W. W. VanPelt of the Vassar Student Union; "Co-operative News Agency Practice," by T. T. Haase of the Midland, Michigan. The officers for the ensuing year are W. C. Markham, president; C. W. Boughton, vice-president; T. T. Haase, secretary; W. W. VanPelt, treasurer.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,

635 KANSAS AVENUE.

To whom it may concern:

This certifies that on the fifth day of this month I began treatment with Dr. Francis, the vaginitis specialist, and am now able to attend to my business of business without inconvenience or discomfort.

I had been treating more than one year under the usual medical practice without benefit. My feet were swollen, drawn out of shape, and very sore from inflammatory rheumatism. I had heard much of Dr. Francis' methods and success, but did not believe it possible. I consider my money paid him a good investment, and only regret not having gone to him sooner.

Very respectfully,

GEORE ELLIOTT.

Cut out the above letter and present it at my office and you will be entitled to consultation and examination free.
